

288BC

1912 Dates J-BK

C360-281BC)

LYSIMACHUS

A general in the army of Alexander the Great. In the division of the kingdom, Lysimachus took Thrace as his share. In 314 B.C. he joined PTOLEMY, SELEUCUS and Cassander in the league against ANTIGONUS of Babylon and gained the northwestern part of Asia Minor by the battle of IPSUS (304 ~ 300 BC). In 288 BC he leagueed with PYRRHUS, PTOLEMY and Seleucus and took Macedonia away from DEMETRIUS. He put his son AGATHOCLES to death and the people of Asia Minor rose in rebellion, defeated, and slew him in the battle of CORUPEDION

288/287B<sup>e</sup>

---

Pyrrhos was king of Macedonia.
His father was ALAKIDES (of EPEIROS)

288 BC

---

LYSIMACHUS, King of THRACE subdued Macedonia